All Over, Now.
New Contract Rules.
England Has Troubles.
Zaro Agha Goes Home.

NOW THAT it is too late for any change in the result, barring some inconceivable mistake by some extremely important person, the political campaign increases its furious intensity. Everybody is speaking almost every minute, but the average voter is not listening intently.

It is difficult now to realize it, but one month hence all the excitement will be over, and the situation will be taken for granted. It is difficult for the 123,000,000 to keep their minds on anything but their individual problems for more than a very short time.

FOR MANY, among those that have leisure, the big news is the change in contract bridge scoring. Hereafter you get 1,500 for a grand slam vulnerable, 2,250 for a grand slam vulnerable, and if, when not vulnerable, you bid recklessly to keep your opponent from making game or rubber, you suffer severely.

THAT BRIDGE news, as unimportant to the real world as the death of a mouse in a Chinese cellar, interests many, while the news that Dr. Willis Rodney Whitney has resigned from active work directing the General Electric research laboratories for 32 years, interests few.

The news that astronomers are looking for the "lost comet of 1866" expected to return and visit us in the first two weeks of November, interests even fewer.

The comet also called "Temple's Comet," was expected to appear in 1899, accompanied by showers of shooting stars. Neither shower nor comet appeared.

There was a time when everybody paid attention to comets, believing them sent by the Almighty to make us repent, and possibly to wipe out the earth.

J. D. Whitney, of General Electric, whose scientific work is a blessing to every human being, will be succeeded by Dr. Coolidge, formerly associated with him in laboratory work. Both are graduates of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

ENGLAND HAS trouble that her faculty of "muddling through" will settle a mob marches on Buckingham Palace, compelling the police to use clubs energetically. This is the first demonstration against British royalty in a long time.

Railroad strikes are threatened, British workmen refusing to accept the statement that you can't pay out more than you take in. And to make the railroad situation worse, 70,000 British mill workers have struck against the proposed reduction of 5 to 7 per cent in wages. All the world has troubles.

THE OLDEST Turk, Zaro Agha, returns home to Istanbul, after wandering around America and Europe for two years collecting money.

He believes that he is 156 years old, and he is probably far beyond 100. His wife, past 80, pulled her veil over her face when she saw him coming in European clothing, not believing that he could be the same man in such strange gear.

When she saw it was really he, she gave bread to all the stray dogs in the neighborhood, in thanksgiving for his safety.

Clothes make a difference. Some savages that once wore only breech

'HUNGER ARMY' QUILTS LONDON AS TREK FAILS

Communist Organizer And Associates Are in Jail.

START FOR HOME

Historic Precincts of Parliament Square Patrolled.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Balked last night in their third attempt to enforce their demands by violence, the unemployed "hunger marchers" who straggled into London last week, turned homeward today.

W. A. L. Hanington, the Communist agent who organized the march of the idle from Scotland, Wales and the industrial centers of England, was in jail. His associates who precipitated a riot in Parliament square last night also were in the hands of the police.

So this morning 50 ragged men who had trudged with the others through the rain last week climbed aboard a charabanc and started back for Brighton whence they came. Other contingents prepared to go back home before the end of the day.

100 Injured in Riots.

Meantime, the historic precincts of Parliament square were in the hands of police after a mass attack, by thousands of jobless had precipitated the bloodiest of four recent riots.

The disorders began at dusk in the heart of the capital and quiet was not completely restored until nearly midnight. Scores suffered minor injuries.

Thus was brought to a climax a series of disturbances that began, as last night, in a march on parliament to protest against the government's application of the dole system.

The disorders began October 21 when parliament reconvened.

All told, the seriously injured in the four outbreaks have numbered more than 100, including 15 taken to hospitals last night and released after treatment.

Police in Battles.

Despite the arrest yesterday of Hanington, their leader, the jobless marshalled their strength last night as they had threatened.

The police responded with strong-arm methods, and won in a series of battles that raged along Victoria embankment, Pall Mall, the Strand, Trafalgar square and Whitehall.

The police got the jump on the demonstrators when the jobless drifted toward Parliament square in small groups from many directions just after dark. Their thousands were augmented by thrill seeking spectators.

By 8 p. m. the huge press of spectators had overflowed into the streets and pushed near the massive iron gates leading into parliament. At that point mounted police filed silently out of Scotland Yard and converged toward parliament building from three directions.

Boos and Catcalls for Bobbies.

There were boos and catcalls as the bobbies on foot pushed back the throngs. One charge was made at the cenotaph. Britain's most sacred monument, when the crowd attempted to grab up wreaths.

The steady retreat continued, until the throngs were backed into Trafalgar square, tempers mounting in the process. Gradually there arose resistance, and within half an hour a bitter street battle was in full swing.

The police advanced into a barrage of bricks, stones and lumps of coal. There was much window smashing. Isolated instances of looting occurred.

The mounted police finally turned the tide, breaking the throng up into small groups, then dispersing each one, until at midnight, all was quiet in the heart of London.

H. M. DAUGHERTY LAUDS HARDING

Former Attorney General Says Late President Was Tolerant But Sadly Abused.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2.—Warren G. Harding was a tolerant, but sadly abused president, Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general in the late President's cabinet, declared in a speech here today, commemorating the 67th birthday anniversary of Mr. Harding.

Daugherty, in one of his few public appearances since he retired from the cabinet, asserted "no man suffered from the so-called 'freedom of the press' as did President Harding. That the abuse came after his death is all the more shameful."

Speaking at memorial service conducted by the Columbus Kiwanis club, Daugherty said President Harding was one of the most tolerant of statesmen, who respected every man's religion, and regarded any church as better than none.

Nothing Venture

SYNOPSIS: Exhaustion overtakes Nan Weare after she forces Mrs. Melish, her housekeeper, to reveal that she saw Rosamund Carew leave Jervis' room at 3 o'clock the morning Jervis disappeared. Rosamund, Nan feels sure, is leagued with Robert Leonard against her husband, although once engaged to him. Perhaps Jervis is still in love with Rosamund. Has she gone with her?

Chapter 43
HORRIBLE AWAKENING
JERVIS WEARE opened his eyes. He might as well have kept them shut, because he could see nothing. An even blackness with no shading in it confronted him. He dropped his lids and slipped back into a vague half consciousness.

Presently he moved, threw out an arm and groaned. The sound of this groan was the first to reach edge and found nothing beyond it. For a moment Jervis stayed like that, his left hand slipping and his right over the edge of an unknown drop. Then a sharp splinter of rock cut his knee, and half involuntarily he drew himself back into a sitting position. What place was this? A dark place and damp with the passage of water.

With his mind awakened to this, his ears caught a sound which had not meant anything until now, when he became aware that it had been present all the time. It was the sound of water, of the sea.

Everything stood still in his mind for a moment. Then the sound of the sea again. His hand went down and touched the damp stone. He put a finger to his mouth and found it salt. Then sound of the sea—and rock with a salt dampness upon it.

He saw wet rocks, water—and bars.

his ears since he had heard Rosamund move beside him in the dark just before he leaned forward to put on the lights of her car.

He heard his own groan, and opened his eyes again. He was still in the dark. But where was Rosamund, and where was the car?

He sat up and felt his head. There was a lump on the back of it like a tennis ball. His right leg felt numb. He put down one hand gropingly and touched stone. The damp cold of it roused him. He scrambled up, and the darkness filled with rockets and pin wheels. He had to sit down again. His mind cleared momentarily. Only a moment ago he had heard Rosamund move beside him in the darkness. He had leaned forward, and some one had knocked him out.

Who? That was the question. And why?

He felt about him again. . . . Stone. . . . He got over on to his hands and knees and felt farther afield. One groping hand passed roughed ridges and came down into a slimy hollow, the other, feeling ahead, went over a rounded

THE THEATER

AMERICAN

What is a she-wolf? There have been wolves along those narrow little thoroughfares called Broadway, Fifth Avenue and Wall Street. But the female of the species is a new type in the realm of moving pictures.

The question arises in connection with the forthcoming presentation of a big talking picture production which is innocuously entitled "Mother's Millions," opening today at the American theater.

In the cast are a number of outstanding players, including the famous stage actress, May Robson, who is making her talking screen debut in this picture. James Hall, who scored a notable success in "Hell's Angels," has the leading male role, while Frances Dade, whose most recent achievements are "Seed," and "Dracula," and Lawrence Gray, well-known juvenile actor in many successes, have important parts. Others in the cast are Edmund Breese, Elinor Flynn and Lillian Harmer.

"Mother's Millions" is described as a story of the little daughters and sisters of the rich and the avaricious eyes which are cast upon their fortunes by designing flatterers, blackmailers, husband-hunters and racketeers.

STATE

The charming blond Constance Bennett, or the Marquise de la Falaise de la Courday, as she is known in private life, is the attraction Thursday at the State theater, in a powerful drama story, "Two Against the World," produced by Warner Bros.

The story is a brilliant drama of high society with a dynamic court room scene, in which a beautiful society girl confesses to sins of which she is not guilty. She drags her honor in the dust in order to save her brother from the electric chair and her married sister from a scandal.

COLUMBIA

"Nice Women" and "Homicide Squad" compose the double bill which will be offered Thursday and Friday at the Columbia theater.

"Nice Women" is Universal's drama of a tangled love affair, with Sidney Fox in the featured role and a cast which also includes Frances Dee, Alan Mowbray, Russell Gleason, Carmel Myers and Lucille Webster Gleason.

"Nice Women" presents the demure Miss Fox as a "younger sister" who poses as an expert in affairs of the heart, only to confess later that her apparent sophistication is only a pretense. And then, bringing the picture to a surprising finish, she embarks as a real siren who needs all the arts of love—and gets what her heart desires.

Frances Dee is seen as Sidney's older sister, and Alan Mowbray as a philandering bachelor who finds himself entangled with three girls at once, not to mention the outraged sweetheart of one of them.

"Nice Women" was directed by Edwin H. Knopf, from the Broadway play of the same name by Wm. A. Grew.

NOW SEE HER SNOW-WHITE WASHES — by C.A. Voight

HOW THE DAYS FLY! HERE IT IS WASHDAY AGAIN

YOU SHOULDN'T MIND YOU HAVE SUCH A MARVELOUS WASHER

YES, IT'S FINE, BUT I STILL CAN'T GET MY LINENS AS WHITE AS YOURS

SHALL I TELL YOU WHY?

YOU USE THE WRONG KIND OF SOAP. LOOK AT THESE SUDS—NO LIFE TO THEM! THEY'RE FLAT AND WATERY. NOW IF YOU USED RINSO—

YOUR WASHER WOULD BE FULL OF RICH, SOAPY SUDS EVEN IN OUR HARD WATER. RINSO SUDS ARE SO LIVELY THEY WASH CLOTHES WHITER—SAFELY

NEXT WASHDAY

I THOUGHT YOU WERE EXAGGERATING LAST WEEK. BUT LOOK AT THIS TABLECLOTH. RINSO WASHED IT LIKE NEW

TRY IT FOR DISHES, TOO. IT'S A MARVELOUS WORK-SAVER—AND SO EASY ON HANDS

See how much work one box did for Mrs. Jacob Heege of Cleveland

FOR washing, for dishes, and for all general cleaning Rinsol is the best soap I've ever used. And just a little Rinsol goes such a long way. With the last big box I got I did all these clothes:

|                 |                  |                     |
|-----------------|------------------|---------------------|
| 1 bedspread     | 4 table-cloths   | 20 aprons           |
| 1 bureau scarf  | 21 towels        | 20 pairs socks      |
| 10 face cloths  | 47 handkerchiefs | 11 pieces underwear |
| 12 pillow cases | 4 house-dresses  | 5 nightclothes      |
| 4 sheets        | 3 nightgowns     | 15 shirts           |

"And that isn't all! With what was left in the same box I mopped up the floors 3 times, went over the woodwork twice and did the dishes 19 times. Rinsol is the only soap for me!"

A little Rinsol gives a lot of thick, lasting suds, even in hardest water. Wonderful for dishwashing and all cleaning. Great for tubwashing; saves scrubbing. Get the BIG box. See how much it will do for you.

ROOSEVELT IN NEW YORK BID

Democrat Prepares For Week-end Speeches in City.

By WALTER T. BROWN, Associated Press Writer.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Governor Roosevelt today prepared for the final bid of his presidential campaign with a week-end of speech making in New York City.

He returned to the capital last night after a whirlwind three-day motor trip through all the six New England states. He said he was "assured that all of the New England states" would be Democratic this fall.

When the Democratic presidential candidate passed through the last of the Massachusetts cities to ward 10 last night and entered New York, the record of the Roosevelt campaign away from home was closed.

On Thursday, Mr. Roosevelt will go to New York City for a speech that night at the Metropolitan Opera house. Friday and Saturday nights will come rallies in the Brooklyn Academy of Music and Madison Square Garden in New York.

Since he stepped into an airplane here July 2 for his acceptance speech at Chicago, Mr. Roosevelt has traveled more than 17,000 miles. He has been in 37 of the 48 states, several of them two or three times.

A last minute change in plans pianist.

brought the governor back to Albany instead of his home at Hyde Park where he had previously planned to go.

Absent Voters Deadline Near.

Absent voters must apply for ballots not later than Saturday if they wish to prevent disfranchisement at the presidential, state, district and county election next Tuesday.

The Ohio law, enacted in 1917, when the Buckeye state's soldiers and sailors were in cantonments and naval stations, provides a 30-day period preceding the election for filing applications for ballot supplies. This privilege shall be denied after the third day before the balloting.

Voters who expect to be absent from their home precinct on Nov. 3, should apply for ballots. Otherwise, they shall bar themselves from a voice in the selection of national, state, district and county officials and also deprive themselves of the right to pass judgment upon four state and local issues, including proposed one-mill tax levies for unemployment relief and maintenance of a 25-man fire department.

Absentees, don't disfranchise yourselves.

Hallowe'en is Over.

To all those who defend Hallowe'en practice, it may be pointed out by those responsible for property that it is only a part of the practices that need to be defended.

Hallowe'en is over, an obvious fact, but one which will escape a certain number of children who try annually to extend the season of caprice in both directions. They can expect no consideration at the hands of those they annoy.

Long before it was time to start preparations for Hallowe'en night these seasonal marauders were up to their tricks. They wore patience thin long before the night when reasonable people settle themselves to bear their various Hallowe'en fates with a little extra protection of philosophy.

Some of them will attempt to take as long tapering off after the real occasion as they took to lead up to it. There is, unfortunately, nothing that can be done about it, except through one agency.

Parents of children who are permitted to play outside at night should know what they are doing. If they are annoying a neighborhood by their pranks, it is the parents duty to see that their energy is released in some other direction.

It is, perhaps, kindly that such annoyances have become common in some parts of the city are called seasonal pranks. A franker description might be disorderly conduct that has no connection with Hallowe'en tricks.

Hallowe'en, long anticipated, has come and gone. In some instances, where playfulness was permitted to get out of hand, it will be long regretted. May peace prevail once more in the doorways and on the doorsteps of the city's dwellings.

On Saving the Country.

The week before the election is politics' silly season. Well meaning partisans who were able to see some merit in keeping their heads and holding their tongues a month ago when Nov. 8 still was weeks away will succumb this week to all degrees of absurdity in their efforts "to save the country," according to their interpretations of salvation.

In a manner of speaking, this is the time for the "big push" by the parties which expect to be in at the finish. Campaign contributions which have been withheld up to now will be forced out more easily by the pressure of the last concentrated effort. Voters who have been allowed to drift will be pressed to commit themselves definitely. It is the enormity of the task and the brevity of the time left that generate hysteria—not the intrinsic importance of the decisions that will be made next Tuesday.

The importance of those decisions should not be minimized, however. It makes for a healthful conception of democratic duty if each voter takes himself and his influence at the polls with the utmost seriousness. It is the sometimes frantic efforts of those who make it their duty to bring their neighbors to their point of view against which a firm defense should be established at this time.

It would be an unique campaign if there were not circulated at this stage certain rumors of dubious fact about both presidential candidates which invariably have the effect of swaying opinions not firmly established on a foundation of reason. Such rumors are common in political contests of every degree of importance, but it is in presidential campaigns that they are given that ghastly exaggeration which makes of them a blot on the records of history.

It would be better if the last few days before a presidential election were to be left free for reason in an atmosphere of relative quiet. Few politicians would care to risk their candidacies without a high pressure conclusion, however. It is up to voters to resist as effectively as they can the foibles of the silly season and save a hearing only for those counsels which commend themselves by calm reason.

There Must Be Rules.

As interest in life goes, there probably were a lost as many fine, upstanding Americans deeply concerned with the new code of contract bridge as with any one of the several dozen important developments in preparations for the coming election. When it is recalled that the story which succeeded in holding national attention longer than any other story of the last year was a contract bridge circus staged solely for purposes of promotion there is nothing remarkable in the fact that alteration of a few rules in a parlor game is a rival with an election for attention.

The new rules, backed in the United States by the austere Whist club of New York, will be accepted meekly by the rank and file—and most of the officers—for two sound reasons. First, there is nothing else to do, unless it might be to start a revolution, which soon would pound itself to pieces on the iron sides of Whist club authority. Second, both those who claim to be experts and those who listen respectfully to experts are convinced in their own minds that something has needed to be done. If an indelicate comparison may be dragged in, to give a seasonal touch, contract bridge players whose names aren't news are about as important when rule changing is under consideration as football players in the same situation.

Impressive sanction is given the revision by an international flavor. It will be some comfort when assimilating the added details of the game to know that the British and the French are doing the same thing—that all contract bridge players all over the world are standardized as closely as human frailty permits.

The revised rules should be known to everyone who is devoted in any degree to the game which an eminent writer and social observer recently described as "the purest of pleasures." This is neither the time nor place to mention them, much less discuss them. Compiled neatly in revised editions of that vast mass of literature on contract bridge which has served many a publishing house from the sheriff, the new rules will be distributed. You can depend on that.

A Perplexing Future.

More frequently, as the necessity for adjustment to the machine age is realized by an increasing number of people, attention will be turned to a new branch of social science which is known in its early development today as technocracy. The name may change, but the subject it covers already is defined clearly.

The human race, after thousands of years during which consumption was confined closely by crude methods of production, suddenly has been led by its own ingenuity into an amazing era when limits of production are defined only in terms of ability to consume. Positions are reversed.

Obviously, if balance has been lost in the reversal, nothing has been gained. If current world-wide restrictions on consumption, imposed by inability of an increasing number of workers to engage themselves in the work of production, can be called a lack of balance, it is evident that there either must be a restoration of balance or complete frustration of human activity, in the general sense.

It is the present aim of the new science of technocracy to present a statistical panorama of the facts of the case. It can be ascertained easily that a certain number of men in this industry have been absorbed at another point and that the remainder have added to many units to the army of unemployed. Wisely, the experimental technocrats of this generation abstain from saying what is to be done. They do not know; the solution is society's responsibility.

One attempt at solution demonstrates convincing by the frightening proportions of the problem. Humanity will not abandon machinery because of difficulties that arise in managing it. Those who seek a solution in that direction are on the wrong path. Machinery has opened dazzling new vistas in the last 100 years. Humanity must walk toward them; it cannot run away. Technocracy is destined to be one of its instruments for guidance, just as the compass once enabled men to penetrate the empty terror of the oceans.

Progress on Paper.

In the American view of disarmament possibilities there are two cheering signs. Since that view takes in, chiefly, the nations of Europe, with only a hint of Japan peeping out from behind the Russian bear, both signs are in familiar words. It is a curious conception of their own responsibilities which permits Americans to think of disarmament as an ideal for which they have set an example that Europe must follow.

The more important sign is forced recognition of the fact that war has become too expensive to employ for the ends it always has served—control of an enemy's territory, wealth and people. Too much equipment is required to wage it successfully; too many years are required to liquidate the debts created by unending purchase and destruction of that equipment.

The other sign relates to the first. It is Europe's apparent willingness to get together and do something to establish universal assurance that war can be started again only by the most desperate action outside international law. It is true that progress on paper is all there is to show for the years of scheming and straining by disarmament advocates, but progress on paper is more than ever has been achieved before.

When France's Premier Herriot is able to obtain from the chamber of deputies a mandate to present a plan for the abolition of professional armies to the Geneva disarmament conference there is reason to be encouraged, even though the plan is smaller than the tangle of strings attached to it. International methods and the human nature reflected in them weren't made in a generation; they won't be made over in a generation. The efforts the world is witnessing are an agonizing trial to patience, in addition to being at every step an affront to cherished traditions of nationalism. Their importance for the present consists chiefly in the fact that they are being made.

Highlights of Ohio History

WOMEN WITH ST. CLAIR'S ARMY

By J. H. Galbraith.

For The Associated Press.

Without attempting to explain their presence, or expressing surprise that they were in the army, Caleb Atwater said in his history of Ohio that there were with Gen. St. Clair's army when he marched north from Cincinnati to meet the Indians in the worst disaster in the history of Indian contact with the white in the west up to that time, 250 women. It seems unbelievable.

It is estimated that St. Clair did not have more than 1500 men when the Indians hurled themselves upon him with irresistible force.

Why did General St. Clair take with him these 250 women, constituting it must be, no little hardship? Fifty-six of them, Atwater said, were slain in the horrible battle, and most of the other women were taken captives, to suffer a worse fate. Only a few escaped by fleeing with the panic-stricken soldiers.

When Atwater wrote his history there was still living at Cincinnati, Catherine Miller, who was one of the few women with the army who escaped by running to Fort Jefferson.

New York Day By Day

By O. O. MCINTYRE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Two of the town's most colorful streets, to my notion, are South and West Wide, sometimes cobbled-stoned. South skirts the East River's water front, and West, the Hudson's. They are the only sections left "where bowsprits look into the windows and windows into ships."

Life, without its smacks of grog, still retains a touch of the burly vigor of men with hair on their chests who go around the Horn on windjammers. There is the timber allegro in the gummy catsup-bottled eating hutch near docks.

Now and then a screaming haw, aflame with cheap gin, staggers the sidewalks to exchange robust epithets with seamen. She knows she is safer than in the perfumed area uptown. The worst she gets below Fulton is a tripe-lye cussing. Uptown, the jug.

A humble mission flaunts a benediction in flaming red: "Jesus Saves!" At dusk pavements are a swaggar of rolling gags. Some times seamen, whose pent-up anger is leashed by ship discipline, meet. Without a word, and in a gulfing rage, they fight it out in the street.

When the city is put to bed, they are silhouetted in a medley of relaxations—playing cards or sprawling on pier ends. On the surface is a rich contempt for casuals. But underneath is some sentimentality. An eager tug for simplicity.

Residential areas in their crazy leap-frog have left the lower tip of Manhattan Island with scarcely a taint of domesticity. Yet, in the tideless calm of its commanding sweep of harbor and sea, it's the ideal home section and decidedly the most peaceful in town. After nightfall, the only noise is the echoing heel-click of a lonely Wall Street night-watch, the only activity a manhole keysering a jet of steam.

A handful of straggling tenement dwellers are beached within a stone's throw of Battery Park, but everybody else joined the heghra northward. The last holdout was Henry L. Doherty, with his perch on a State street skyscraper crag. But he finally abandoned his eyrie for the modernistic charms of that new and glorified tribal rock on Park avenue—the Waldorf. New York revolves in cycles. Neighborhoods infra-gird a generation ago are top swank today, notable examples are those slum-jets—Sutton and Beekman Places. I hazard the Park avenue of another generation will overlook the harbor. What are now rows of steamship offices and a rising sheer of business towers will be castles by the sea. Say by 1952!

Speaking of idyllically named residential areas, the mail was brightened today by this address: "Gardenglow St., Paris, O." Yet my choice for the most entrancing, I named thoroughfare remains Shanghai's Bubbling Well Road. With Chicago's Lake Shore Drive, a runner-up. And there's a Cots-wold trout village—"Skidding Skies."

Most river towns have a Front Street jutting the levee. And all Front streets have a pea-in-the-pod similarity. In a few blocks' sweep they encompass the social strata. From Banker Henking's brick with hardwood floors far back on the knoll to the shuttered frame across the tracks from which ladies, with lips touched carefully red, came to town only in curtained gigs. Sinclair Lewis spiked many adolescent dreams of "the great American novel" with "Main Street." Mine was to be "Front Street," but after "Main Street" I was tickled pink I kept on at my hacking.

In another hold but uncertain moment, I tackled a publisher—this was about 15 years ago—regarding a novel to be called "Forty-Second Street," which had been incubating since I came to brighten the town. Nothing came of it. Chiefly because the publisher did not think, and rightly, I had a hop to the ball. A book by that title was recently a deserved best seller. My books rarely get beyond titles. So here's another I've thought up—I guess none. Maybe I can sell it to Hollywood.

How To Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND.

IN 1881 Louis Pasteur, that great French scientist, first discovered a way of combating a disease known as "anthrax." Even if that were his only achievement, mankind would owe him a great debt for that alone.

Anthrax, also known as "wool-sorters' disease" or "malignant pustule," is an acute infectious disease caused by a germ called "bacillus anthracis."

This germ is found in diseased cattle, sheep, goats and pigs, and is transmitted to human beings who take care of these animals. Farmers, butchers, cattlemen, sheepmen, tanners, woolworkers and others whose work demands contact with diseased animals are liable to this infection, and occasionally it comes from contact with an infected shaving brush.

The germ may enter through the skin, the lungs or the digestive tract, but the most common form is the skin type, where the infection is easily seen. It consists of a small reddened and angry-looking sore.

Excision of the infected area must be done as soon as possible, to prevent spread of the disease and the possibility of more serious complications.

When the lungs or digestive tract are involved, the symptoms are not typical. In such cases it may be very difficult to make a diagnosis. Boiling water will destroy most germs or bacteria. For example, to sterilize an instrument it is only necessary to place it in boiling water for fifteen minutes. But if anthrax germs are present, boiling must be continued for at least two hours before the germs and spores are killed. The anthrax germ differs from other germs, in having a covering around it, which makes it far more difficult to destroy.

Different methods of sterilization have been advised for materials that harbor the anthrax germ. The law demands that fur, leather, hair, wool and bristles be carefully and thoroughly sterilized. In addition, the workers who handle the raw materials are protected from infections.

Live stock are periodically examined for the infection, and where necessary, a preventative serum is given. At one time anthrax was a serious industrial disease in certain occupations liable to the infection. There was always a menace to the health of the worker and of the public. Great progress has been made, however, in the cure and prevention of this formerly dreaded disease.

In the city of New York only two cases of anthrax were reported last year. The New York department of health rigidly inspects all factories where hides, hair, wool and bristles are used in manufacturing. It is hoped that eventually the disease will be completely eradicated.

Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—One of the interesting things of this presidential campaign, now so near the close, is the attitude of Mr. Hoover toward the actual matter of campaigning. The President during the last month not only has knocked into a cocked hat the belief that he would remain aloof, but before election day rolls around he may have upset some long-standing precedents in regard to presidential campaign speech-making.

At this writing he has done just about twice as much as was expected of him, and if he follows through with his plans, by November 8 he will have done about three times as much.

Plans Changed

It was generally agreed at the start of the intensive period of the campaign that the President would make only three speeches. These were to be delivered in highly strategic cities.

In following this principle Mr. Hoover was on solid and traditionally good political ground—especially Republican. It long has been the G. O. P. theory when trying to elect its candidate that his place is at home.

Few Speeches in 1928

Four years ago the President made comparatively few speeches and there was little of the fire and give and take in them he has displayed in the present campaign.

Roosevelt, after his nomination at Chicago, planned no such wide swings around the country as he has since made. He, too, thought in the beginning that he would confine his efforts to the strategic parts of the nation. But once started he became convinced that personal appearances was the most effective method of getting himself and his ideas before the people.

The President also came to that realization. Pressure from his advisers that he alone could plead his cause and his reception at Des Moines changed his mind and sent him crusading to other cities.

Rhyme a Day

By ALINE MICHAELIS

And Then Sleep Comes

The busy day weaves patterns intricate,

With fair design and joyous color glowing.

And through them all, expectant and elate,

A sense of eager life, at flood-tide flowing.

Of toil and dreams and barter and desire,

Of love, with countless golden fancies thronging.

The pattern goes; of bold ambition's fire,

Of youth, importunate and filled with longing.

Thus gleams the vivid tapestry of Day;

And then Sleep comes. With soft and gentle fingers.

She blurs the picture into mauve and gray.

Till of it all not one clear memory lingers;

But only visions, dim as muted notes

The Reviewing Stand

By TOM T. JONES.

THE Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was founded in New York City on February 15, 1868. Its organization resulted from a series of meetings the previous year under the leadership of Charles Vivian, an English singer. Out of this small beginning the departure developed to its present standing in which are representative lodges in every state in the Union.

In the selection of a name for the order it was desired to secure a designation purely American in suggestion. It was stipulated that it should have marked qualities peculiar to Americans. Thus the name Elk was agreed to. It was declared that the animal is distinguished for fleetness of foot and has a timidity for wrong doing. It is said of the Elk also that it avoids all combat except in fighting for the female, the defense of the young, the helpless and the weak. Hence the name was adopted with general satisfaction to those active in its formation.

It was in the year 1882 that marked activity in the widening of the scope of the order began to be noted. It was 16 years later and 39 years following the initial organization of the first order in America that East Liverpool lodge, No. 255, B. P. O. E. was organized.

It had the following charter members: T. C. Fowler, George Buxton, J. A. McFarlan, J. W. Hohmann, T. C. Cochran, George F. Brunt, W. C. Stewart, W. E. Macrum, C. F. Surles, J. S. Hilbert, Smith Fowler, W. S. Brunt, George Y. Travis, G. Bendheim, J. W. Keon, R. W. Patterson, S. M. Laughlin, R. Scraggs, Percy Frost, George Peach, William Erlanger, Jr., W. Cassidy, G. W. Meredith, H. S. Rinehart, D. Stanford, Joseph Turnbull, Charles Berg, Willis Cuning, James V. Early and Aaron Guthrie.

The organization of the East Liverpool lodge was largely the result of activities by T. C. Forster and George Buxton. After obtaining the required number of prospective members they obtained a dispensation from the exalted ruler for the institution of a lodge here.

THE East Liverpool lodge was instituted by Dr. W. C. Nelson, then the D. D. G. E. R. of this district. He was assisted by members of Youngstown Lodge No. 55. The following were the initial officers installed: Exalted Ruler, T. C. Forster; Esteemed Leading Knight, George Buxton; Esteemed Loyal Knight, W. V. Blake; Esteemed Lecturer Knight, James A. McFarlan; Secretary, J. W. Hohmann; Treasurer, T. C. Cochran; Filer, George Brunt; Esquire, W. C. Stewart; Inner Guard, J. S. Hilbert; Chaplain, W. B. Macrum; organist, C. F. Surles; trustees, Smith Fowler, W. S. Brunt and George Y. Travis.

Initial temporary quarters for the lodge were secured in the Thompson block on Fifth street. The entire third floor of this structure was thus utilized for a period of five years. In the spring of 1897 a committee after investigation decided upon the entire third floor of the I. W. Knowles block on Washington street as the organization's future quarters. Through the kindness of Mr. Knowles the rooms were arranged in it according to the wishes of the members of the lodge.

Due to this arrangement the East Liverpool lodge at the time had the distinction of having quarters that were considered as fine as any then existing and used by the order in the United States. The sum of $4,000 was then expended for the equipment of the rooms thus arranged for the membership of this organization.

The parlor, 20 to 40 feet, was tastefully furnished. It had costly furniture. Its walls were adorned with handsome pictures, pieces of art and bric-a-brac. Adjoining it was a capacious dance hall. Near it was the lodge room. It also was elegantly furnished.

By opening connecting sliding doors it was possible to transform these three rooms into one. There was a reading room that adjoined the parlor. In it were kept the latest journals, magazines and some books. In the billiard room were modern tables. To all of which there was added a kitchen in which it was possible to provide food for any sized repast.

WHEN the East Liverpool lodge of Elks sponsored the centennial anniversary in the form of a homecoming and the presence in the city of a large carnival attraction in 1899 its officers then were Exalted ruler, George L. S. Brock, esteemed leading knight, A. V. Gilbert; esteemed loyal knight, Edward L. Carson; esteemed lecturer knight, E. B. Gould; secretary, J. S. Hilbert; treasurer, W. E. Wells; filer, J. V. Early; esquire, T. V. Thompson; chaplain, W. V. Blake; organist, Louis Steinfield; trustees, Frank Grosshans, Henry Joseph, E. G. Dean, George J. Phillips and G. Y. Travis.

To perpetuate memory for the departed members of the order annual services were being held. By that year but four of those allied with the lodge had passed away. These were: S. M. Laughlin, W. E. Stewart, J. J. Fuller and Charles M. Dix.

The lodge had also inaugurated benefit performances each year. The proceeds of these departures went to the charity fund of the organization. For 1899 the attraction was "The Christian" which was presented by Klaw & Erlanger's New York company.

During this notable celebration the Elks had upon its roll in East Liverpool the following persons: J. E. Adams, C. G. Anderson, George W. Ashbaugh, J. H. Aten, James Barlow, W. A. Beane, G. Bendheim, Charles Berg, T. D. Bough, George F. Brunt, G. S. L. Brock, R. H. Buchanan, George Buxton, W. H. Buxton, John Canne, I. B. Cameron, E. L. Carson, William Cassidy, A. H. Clark, Edward Cook, Walter S. Cook, W. E. Cooper, James Costello, Willis Cuning, E. G. Dean, Pat Duffy, of 48 one-pound cans were packed.

J. V. Early, William Erlanger Jr., Robert J. Fouts.

Others were Smith Fowler, Percy Frost, J. A. Gardner, W. H. Gass, E. A. Geon, J. W. Geon, J. B. George, John Gibbs, A. V. Gibbs, John M. Goodwin, A. C. Gould, E. B. Gould, Arthur Grimm, F. E. Grosshans, Aaron Guthrie, J. N. Hanley, C. R. Harsha, J. A. Heaton, R. C. Heddlston, George E. Heller, S. T. Herbert, J. S. Herbert, W. B. and W. M. Hill, Arthur Hindle, J. W. Hohmann, E. J. Holt, J. W. Hunter, W. B. Hyde, Frank Ikert, Homer Jackson, A. J. Johnson, Adolph and Henry Joseph, A. A. Kernott, A. I. Kerr, Ed. A. King, Frank Knowles, D. J. Maden, J. A. Martin, G. W. Meredith, J. W. Moore, J. B. Martin, J. H. and J. P. Mountford.

THE then number also included

John B. MacDonald, W. R. McCord, M. J. McGarry, W. M. McGraw, W. J. McKinney, H. J. McMaster, Frank and John S. McNutt, S. D. Naragon, C. F. Norris, C. B. Ogden, Edwin Oppelt, R. W. Patterson, George Peach, Charles Peterson, George J. Phillips, Thomas Plunkett, William Polk, John Powell, W. H. Pritchard, A. N. Rayl, W. M. Rex, W. A. Rhodes, H. S. Rinehart, A. H. Risinger, Ralph Scraggs, A. L. Seckerson, Jacob Shenkle, M. R. Shingler, W. F. Steele, Louis Steinfield, W. C. R. and W. F. Stewart, William Stubbs, C. F. Surles, R. W. Taylor, Homer J. Taylor, E. W. and T. Thompson, G. Y. Travis, F. L. Trumm, Joseph Turnbull, George Viny, Robert Walter, W. G. Warfield, W. E. Wells, Sol Whit, W. R. Wikoff, E. W. Williams, A. C. Wolfe and H. R. Wylie.

The list reveals that congressmen, congressional secretaries, manufacturers, county and state officials, professional men and poets were all assimilated by the order of that day. By now a great number have their names attached to the list for whom annual memorial services are held. Others have removed elsewhere while still a contingent yet allied and active in the fraternal activities of the lodge as during its earlier years.

Business Leaders See
Recovery Readily
Financed.

BY FRANK H. McCONNELL.
Associated Press Financial Writer.
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The recent improvement in the financial position of American banks, which has been widely commented on in current bank reviews, including that at the New York Federal Reserve bank, is being hailed by business leaders as an indication that world recovery can readily be financed, once it gets well under way.

The unexpectedly good results of foreign government refunding plans, whereby their maturing bonds have been replaced by obligations bearing lower interest coupons, have been regarded as proof that the financial machinery of Great Britain and France has been well lubricated. And on this side of the Atlantic, there have been notable gains recorded, in the past several months toward credit expansion.

This expansion, accompanied by a gain of nearly $1,000,000,000 in the last half year in deposits of leading New York banks, although as yet this has not extended in more than nominal degree to banks outside New York, has been large.

Mrs. Frances Perkins, state industrial commissioner of New York, who, it is said, might be the choice of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt for the post of secretary of labor in the event of his election to the presidency. The appointment would make Miss Perkins the first woman cabinet member.

By the result of two wholesome forces at work. One has been the return of gold to this country, after its flight earlier in the year, and the other has been the return of hoarded money, which with reviving confidence has gradually been released from the tin boxes of hoarders and allowed to work back to the banks.

'MA' FERGUSON MAY SHATTER MANY RECORDS

Life of Texas Woman
One of Ups,
Downs.

By GORDON W. SHEARER,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 2.—If Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson is inaugurated governor of Texas on Jan. 17, a number of records will be broken. She will have received more votes than any other woman. She will be the first woman re-elected governor of a state. She will have enforced her candidacy twice by a supreme court ruling. She will be the first woman to move into the Texas governor's mansion three times. She will be the first Democratic candidate whose party opponent bolted. She will have attended four inaugurations. Two of them have been the inaugurations of her husband. Two will have been her own.

Her two daughters are the only children of governor parents on both sides, both living.

Many Ups and Downs.

The ups and downs of the Fergusons, Miriam A. and James E., have formed an interesting part of the political history of Texas. Strangely enough, their races have become intermixed with national party matters.

When James E. Ferguson, Temple banker and Bosque county farmer, decided to run for governor of Texas in 1914, President Woodrow Wilson endorsed his opponent, Tom Hall, of Houston. Cannily, Ferguson refrained from attacking President Wilson, then in the height of his popularity. He passed it off with the remark that the President was too busy with other matters to know personally of the situation in Texas and was badly advised by Texans in Washington. Ferguson won. Later, after Ferguson's impeachment, when he organized the American party and became its candidate for president, Ferguson let loose the resentment he felt toward President Wilson.

Cite Old Appeal.

Opponents now are citing his attacks of that date in answer to his appeals for Democrats not to be "bolted" from the party this year. For this year Mrs. Ferguson, Democratic nominee, is relying on the likelihood of Democrats voting the ticket straight to pull her through a tight general election. Vote for Roosevelt, Garner and Mrs. Ferguson, is the slogan.

Texas' peculiar primary election law has at times helped and at times hindered Mrs. Ferguson's efforts to be governor. This law gives the nomination only to a candidate with a majority vote. If none has a majority in the first primary, another is held a month later with all but the two highest eliminated.

"Vest Pocket" Vote.

A so-called "vest-pocket vote" which always goes for the Fergusons, Pa and Ma, puts them into the secondary primary. But then they encounter the combined opposition of a group of defeated candidates.

So bitter has been the opposition that Mrs. Ferguson was the first governor since reconstruction days to be seriously endangered by a Republican candidate for governor.

In 1924, Dr. George Butte, University of Texas professor, received approximately 294,000 votes on the Republican ticket, and Mrs. Ferguson beat him by only 127,000.

This year the Republicans again are making a strenuous campaign with Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls oil man, as their nominee. Gov. Ross S. Sterling, whom she defeated for the Democratic nomination by 2,333 votes, according to Democratic committee count, says he really won the nomination, has bolted and is expected to support Bullington.

Texas headquarters of the national Democratic campaign and State Democratic Chairman Maury Humes of Dallas have both issued calls to "vote straight," so seriously do they consider the situation.

MILITARY PLAN HIT BY RABBIS

Jewish Leaders Favor Abolition of Citizens' Military Training Camps in Cincinnati Address.

By The Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 2.—Abolition of citizens' military training camps and similar training schools and colleges was recommended today in a report submitted to the 43rd convention of the central conference of American Rabbis.

The report, made by the committee on international peace, advocated a radical reduction of America's military budget, "irrespective of what is achieved at Geneva, of what other nations may or may not do."

In introducing the report, Rabbi Max C. Currick, of Erie, Pa., chairman of the committee, said: "The events of the past year have shown an encouraging clearness and courage on the part of nearly all religious bodies in taking a definitely increasing pacifist attitude on international affairs. We are coming more and more to apply boldly and sincerely the ethical teachings which we have been professing and to declare all war, immoral and irreligious in these days. Most of us have not yet gone all the way, but the trend is unmistakable."

WELLSVILLE COUNCIL HEARS ENGINEER'S WATER REPORT

FORMER MAYOR INGRAM URGES SPEED ON DAMS

Citizens' Committee to Await Estimate Of Cost.

LOAN IS SOUGHT

Tags are Sold to Pay For Traffic Light Installation.

Engineer Mac Fraser submitted a partial report of his survey in connection with the proposed construction of two additional water storage dams Tuesday night at the meeting of the Wellsville council. Estimates on the cost of the work will be obtained after which a session of council, members of the public works committee and a committee of lawyers will be called to outline a program and determine the amount of money to be asked from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Former Mayor George B. Imbrie urged speed on the program. He said that the work would provide employment for many men.

Fraser's report follows: 20-foot level spillway, acreage, 5.4, capacity, 13 and 3 million gallons; 25-foot level spillway, acreage, 6.4, capacity, 27,000,000 gallons; 30-foot level spillway, 7 acres, capacity, 34 and four million gallons; 35-foot level spillway, acreage, 8.4, capacity, 50 and six million gallons.

These sites are located on Little Yellow creek near the present dam. The drawings showed that a dam in Bailey's run would provide small storage capacity.

PURDY URGES U. S. CHINA AT WORLD'S FAIR

Ceramic Society Head Sends Appeal to Promoters.

The use of American-made china at the Chicago Century of Progress exposition which will be held next year is urged by Ross C. Purdy of Columbus, general secretary of the American Ceramic society, in a letter addressed to Rufus C. Dawes, president of the organization sponsoring the Chicago event.

Purdy calls the attention of Dawes to the use of French-made china at the Paris exposition and the use of ware made in Germany for the famous Leipzig exposition and asks "Why not none other than American-made china at our own exposition?"

Eitel Brothers of Chicago, who have charge of the lunch room concession at the 1893 world's fair, have again obtained this concession. Purdy, in his letter, says that German-made china was used by this firm in the last event.

"Buy American," under these business conditions and especially when other countries have similar slogans, has not been taken as evidence of provincialism but rather of common sense," Purdy said.

"We have been and are continuing strenuously to interest the promoters of this country in participation in the Century of Progress exposition. Our efforts, at present, are directed through Ely Jacques Kahn in the industrial arts exposition. Shortage in business and shrunken profit margins have caused our promoters to ponder seriously the wisdom of incurring exposition commitments.

"One of their discouragements is the lack of appreciation by Americans of the high quality of American-made china, American pottery, especially our vitrified china, has no superior. It would be very damaging to the prestige of American-made china should Eitel Brothers use any other than American-made china in the restaurants and lunch rooms at the Century of Progress exposition."

NEW CONTRACT BRIDGE LAWS ARE EFFECTIVE

Five Major Changes In Scoring are Announced.

By TOM O'NEIL, Associated Press Staff Writer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Doubled not vulnerable under-trick penalties are increased, in the main, by a new code of laws for contract which became effective Tuesday.

The penalty of 50 per trick for undoubled not vulnerable under-tricks is retained because the authorities thought that removal of the completely psychic possibility would deprive the game of much of its zest.

Some vulnerable penalties are decreased in an effort to attain better balance. The first not vulnerable doubled under-trick is penalized 100 points and there is an increase of 50 points in penalty with each succeeding under-trick.

Thus the second under-trick costs 150 points and the total penalty for two down is 250; the under-trick costs 200 and the total penalty for three down is 450.

Doubled not vulnerable under-tricks and undoubled vulnerable under-tricks cost the same.

Five Major Changes.

Five major changes in scoring have been made by the Whist Club (New York), the Portland Club of London and the Commission Franco-Britannique du Bridge with endorsement by representatives of leading American organizations.

Game at not-rump counts 100 points, the same as game at diamonds or clubs, instead of 105 points. The change is produced by according 30 points to the odd-numbered not-rump tricks and 40 to the even, instead of a uniform 35.

Bonuses for grand slams have been increased to 1,500 not vulnerable and 2,250 points vulnerable.

Undoubled over-tricks have been changed to the suit value. One over-trick in spades, for instance, will count 30 above the line instead of 50.

Doubled over-tricks retain their present bonus except that the fixed premiums of 50, 100 and 200 for fulfilling doubled and redoubled contracts have been abolished.

Penalty for Looking.

Hereafter a player cannot look at the last trick with impunity just to refresh his memory. The penalty is that an opponent may call a lead.

Penalties for infringements of the rules have been changed considerably with a view to amelioration.

But players who look at their cards during the deal entitle their opponents to call for a new deal. Heretofore they were immune.

The laws are largely the work of John Godfrey Saxe, chairman of the Whist club's committee on laws, and the scoring is in accordance with the advice of Harold S. Vanderbilt, author of the superseded code. Here is a part of Mr. Saxe's summary of the changes:

There are five major changes in scoring. They were all made pursuant to the advice of Harold S. Vanderbilt, who is the recognized father of contract scoring.

1—No-trump values have been reduced to 30 for the first, third, fifth and seventh odd tricks and increased to 40 for the second, fourth and sixth odd tricks.

2—The premium for fulfilled doubled contracts has been omitted.

3—The premium for undoubled over-tricks has been reduced to the equivalent odd-trick value.

4—The doubled not vulnerable under-trick penalties have been increased somewhat, and certain of the vulnerable penalties decreased somewhat to obtain a perfect balance between them, and to secure a uniform increase in the penalty for each additional under-trick lost.

5—The premiums for grand slams have been increased to 1,500 not vulnerable, 2,250 vulnerable.

Change in no-trump trick values.

The change in no-trump trick values should prove popular with all contract players. As all lives have been eliminated from the scoring column, a scorekeeper, if he wishes, may drop all notrumps from his scoring sheet. Duplicate players in the Howell system will no longer have to play a hand at three no-trump, which should be played in five of a minor. The values do not in any way disturb the scoring balance.

Omission of premium for making doubled contracts.

Experience has shown that the scales were weighted against the doubler of a game contract in the old scoring.

The omission of the premium for making doubled contracts results in a nearly perfect balance score as between making a doubled game contract and setting the contract one trick.

Reduced premium for undoubled over-tricks.

The premium for undoubled over-tricks has been reduced from 50 per over-trick to the corresponding odd-trick value. This change should prove popular with all contract players, as it removes an unnecessary difference which has existed in the scoring systems of the two games.

Changes in under-trick penalties.

The doubled not vulnerable under-trick penalties have been increased somewhat, and certain of the vulnerable penalties decreased somewhat to obtain a perfect balance between them, and to secure a uniform increase in the penalty waived.

How to Vote For One-Mill Levy For Fire Department Maintenance

Renewal of the one-mill levy for maintenance of a 26-man fire department, as recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters in a survey made here five years ago when the tax was first sanctioned, will be asked at the November 8 election. Approval of the levy will assure adequate fire protection, for without it no funds will be available to pay salaries of 13 members of the department. Reduction in the personnel will mean a subsequent increase in fire insurance rates. To vote for the levy mark your ballot as indicated below.

For each additional under-trick lost.

Under the old scoring system, the not vulnerable under-tricks went up in jerks—100-100 then 200-200 and then 400 for the fifth under-trick. So in a lesser degree did the vulnerable 200 for the first under-trick, then 400 for each subsequent under-trick. There is no justification for such a procedure. We will now have a common difference of 50 points or increase of 50 points per under-trick, which controls the penalties (now identical) for doubled not vulnerable and undoubled vulnerable under-tricks.

Psychic Bids.

We arrived at our final decision not to increase the not vulnerable undoubled under-trick penalties only after the most careful consideration, for the following reasons:

(A) There exists a perfect defensive weapon against a completely psychic bid. A double and the ensuing switch to avoid the doubled penalty always discloses the nature of a completely psychic bid. If the penalties had been increased, the weapon of the pass would have prevented the use of completely psychic bids. Is there any reason why a pass should be made a preventive weapon when in perfect defensive weapon exists in the double? Why bar what we can readily circumvent?

(B) The great majority of expert players are opposed to the increase in this penalty. They are of the opinion that a not vulnerable adversary now has a positional advantage of which he should not be deprived, and that to remove the completely psychic possibility from not vulnerable bidding would deprive the game of much of its zest and variety and make it too cut and dried. One of its charms is the opportunity, now afforded a not vulnerable under-dog of trying to bluff a vulnerable adversary.

(C) Psychic bids are but just meriting down to the average player and their popularity has not been thoroughly tested or adequately determined.

Increased Premium for Grand Slam.

The not vulnerable grand slam premium has been increased from 1,000 to 1,500; the vulnerable grand slam premium from 1,500 to 2,500.

The greatest injustice in the old scoring system was the inadequacy of the grand slam premiums. The average player who bid a grand slam has been an innocent victim of this injustice. Doubtless the average player has been unaware of this pitfall. In the interests of justice, the grand and small slam odds should be identical and about even.

It will at once be perceived that the new vulnerable grand slam premium of 2,250 creates a nearly perfect balance. The bidder of the grand slam risks his 1,500 points to secure an additional 1,500. An even more perfect balance is now secured in the case of not vulnerable grand slams.

RELIEF BOARD FOR HANCOCK COUNTY NAMED

Distribution of R. F. C. Relief Loan is Planned.

The Hancock county court Tuesday approved the appointment by the West Virginia welfare board of a group of 12—nine men and three women—to handle the relief funds allocated to Hancock county by the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The county board is non-partisan, being composed of two Republican and two Democrats from each district.

Members of the board are: Grant district—C. A. Smith, Republican, and E. C. Stewart, Democrat, Chester district, and F. B. Lawrence, Republican, and Mrs. Sally Ellis, Democrat, Newell district, Mayor H. C. Scott of New Cumberland and R. N. Cochran, Republicans, and Earl L. Hill and Mrs. Leora Brown, Democrats; Butler district, Rev. R. C. Ostreger and R. E. Campbell, Republicans, and J. L. Miller and Mrs. Mary Powell, Democrats.

The state welfare board has requested the county court to keep the amount of the loan confidential with the county board. Members of the court, however, have announced that the amount received is enough to care for the needy of the county throughout the winter. In the event the supply is not sufficient, the court will be permitted to request another loan after the expiration of three months.

Prosecuting Attorney W. W. Ingram of Chester, who has been supervising the negotiations for the loan, has announced that the new county board will begin the distribution of the funds as soon as this organization has been completed. The board will meet this week and select a chairman and complete plans for carrying out the relief work.

The funds, Ingram said, will be issued in the form of direct relief and indirectly in the form of work on county projects. The county court will supervise the latter, while the welfare board will be in charge of the direct relief.

JUDGE BROKAW PRAISES U. S. CONSTITUTION

Municipal Judge is Speaker at Rotary Luncheon.

Calling it the greatest document in history, with the exception of the Bible, Municipal Judge Harry Brokaw spoke before the Rotary club at its weekly meeting Tuesday in the Travelers' hotel on "The United States Constitution, Its Structure and Utility."

Thomas H. Fisher presided as chairman and introduced Judge Brokaw. Preceding the address, the club unanimously endorsed the one-mill unemployment relief levy, to be submitted at the Nov. 8 election. J. S. Hilbert explained the need for the levy. He urged Rotary members to work in its behalf.

"The constitution, without a doubt, is the greatest document human hand has ever written, with the exception of the Bible," Judge Brokaw declared. "In its first sentence, 4,000 years of tradition were shattered. I am referring to the phrase 'We the American people.'"

"Acknowledgement was made in that statement that the power rests with the people themselves, an innovation at the time the constitution was written. The constitution is short, yet in the process there are six provisions, covering all the human needs of a government."

"The constitution itself was more or less of a compromise, for some of its drafters favored a central power, while others wanted state's rights. The make-up of the two houses of congress was in itself a compromise. The senate, with two representatives from every state, favored the smaller units, while the house of representatives, based upon population, naturally was in favor of the large states."

"Such a remarkable thing was the constitution that today its original form practically serves to govern this nation."

Mrs. P. A. Fernster, of Midland, president of the Beaver County Federation of Women's Clubs, addressed the New Brighton Women's club on "The Parent Teachers' Association" at its meeting today in the Methodist Protestant church, New Brighton. With no funds available from other sources, East Liverpool is asked to approve a proposed one-mill unemployment relief levy at the Nov. 8 election to provide food for the needy during the winter.

The levy, if sanctioned, will net between $18,000 and $24,000, depending upon the amount of taxes collected on a $21,000,000 valuation. To support the levy and prevent suffering among the unemployed, vote for the tax, as indicated below:

Gentlemen,

Since I purchased a One Minute washing machine from you to be sent to my home, here in South Bend, I thought you might wish to know why I chose a One Minute in preference to the many other washers I have used in my demonstrations throughout the country.

On the platform at the Eagle's auditorium this week I was so impressed by the ease with which the One Minute turned out the clothes and the speed with which it cleaned even the badly soiled articles that I decided that there was no logical reason why I should pay from ten to twenty dollars more for a machine which I knew from past experience could not give me any more satisfaction.

Sincerely Yours,

GARNER M'COY OUT OF FERRY BATTLE

Cullen Stanford Still Backs Warner, Despite Two Straight Defeats

May Play Halfback

Booth, Conkle Ready For Important Saturday Tilt.

By ROBERT ELLIOTT, Sports Editor, The Review.

GARNER M'COY, star Potter sophomore halfback, who was injured in a practice session preceding the Canton McKinley tussle and did not see action against the Bulldogs, will not be ready to perform against Martins Ferry in the important battle at Patterson field Saturday afternoon, Coach Leeland Schachern said today.

McCoey, a triple threat man, and spearhead of the Potter running attack, was missed in the McKinley fracas, but his absence proved to Coach Schachern that the Ceramics are far from a one-man ball club. Harvey Cullen took acceptable care of the punting duties, while big Mike Karcis did enough ground gaining for the backfield men.

Hot Fight On

However, "Shack" plans to revamp his line slightly for the Ferry game, and it looks at present as if Harvey Cullen will start in McCoey's vacated left halfback berth. If he does, the Potters will have one of the most powerful backfields in Ohio scholastic circles. Bob Kapp, will be at quarterback. Woody McCoey at right half and Karcis at fullback.

If Cullen goes into the backfield Cook and Booth will likely take over the terminal positions. Booth and Conkle, out for the last few games with injuries, are both back in shape and are expected to be in the starting lineup Saturday. Charles Pack and Don Miles will be the tackles with Andy Steward and Woodrow Price at the guard positions.

Conkle and Dick Pennybaker are staging a hot fight for the center position. Conkle, a letterman had the position clinched until he was injured, but Pennybaker played such a fine game against McKinley that it's doubtful which will draw down the starting assignment against the Purple Riders.

The Ceramics were put through a long drill last evening at Patterson field. Most of the time was taken up with signal drills, although Schachern also laid emphasis on the local passing attack. Some new formations were tried and worked well against dummy opposition.

Riders Using Passes

The Ceramics have never defeated a Ferry eleven, but the pre-game dope this year puts the odds at even-odds, with most of the local fans looking for the Potters to achieve their seventh consecutive triumph.

So far this season the Riders have bagged their attack on Big Bill Dorsey, gigantic fullback. Also Steve Kalas, an end, has been dropping back to do most of the passing. This is the first year a Ferry eleven has ever used the aerial game to any great extent.

Kalas threw two passes against Warren, and both resulted in touchdowns, giving Jimmy Cox's boys a 13-6 victory over Pierre Hill's classy aggregation.

Bronko Nagurski Leads Pro Loop

Gains 247 Yards in Grid Circuit; Crossman Stars.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Bronko Nagurski, plunging fullback of the Chicago Bears, now leads the field in the race for ground gaining honors in the National Professional Football league.

The former Minnesota ace has gained 247 yards for an average of better than five yards a clip. Earl (Dutch) Clark of Portsmouth and Ken Strong of Stapleton, are tied for second place. They each have gained 339 yards but their average is lower than Nagurski's.

Jack Grossman of Brooklyn leads in total points with 30; Jack Hagerty of the New York Giants and new coach at Georgetown, in passing with 17 completions out of 32 attempts; Ray Flaherty of the Giants, in pass catching with 10 for 172 yards against Harry Ebdine's record for Portsmouth of 11 for 160 yards; and Henry Hughes of Boston in punting with an average of 45 yards.

This is the twenty-first of a series of articles in which O. W. "Red" Severence, noted official, relates the humorous and "inside" stories he has run across in a long association with leading football coaches.

By O. W. "RED" SEVERENCE Written For The Associated Press.

The coach of the freshman football team at any college or university has a real job on his hands. He must convert great high school fullbacks into linesmen and centers and guards into backs.

In their first year most of these boys are over anxious and under the new surroundings often pull some stunt that marks them the rest of their college days.

This particular incident occurred in a game between the freshmen teams of Florida and Mercer.

A tackle on the Florida team, in tackling a runner, was able to grab the ball away from the backfield man and started to run toward Mercer's goal.

This all was perfectly legal and a fine play if it can be done. The Florida coach was elated and was cheering his tackle when suddenly the player stopped and, turning, hand the sphere back to the opposing backfield man, who was running just behind in hopes of stopping the runner.

The coach yelled and immediately sent in a substitute to relieve the linesman.

When the tackle reached the bench the coach demanded his reason for giving the ball back to the opposing team once he had captured it. The freshman exclaimed:

"Well, as soon as I got the ball the referee took out after me. I thought he was going to penalize me, so I hurried and returned the ball."

Cornell Bomber

Viviano Candidate For All-American Berth

By The Associated Press.

ITHACA, N. Y.—Bart Viviano, Cornell's big captain and fullback, looks like one of the east's best bets for a place on this year's All-American eleven.

Chosen on the all-eastern team last season, Viviano has stood out even more prominently on Coach Gil Dobie's current machine.

In addition to his line plunging ability, at which many observers believe he has no peer in the country, Viviano is a great defensive back and a magnificent blocker on offense.

With Jack Ferraro, Cornell's other sterling back, out of early games with an injury, the brunt of the Big Red Team's attack has fallen on Viviano.

That he did very well with it is attested by the fact Cornell scored 106 points to opponents' none in its first four trays.

"Breaks" Blamed By Fans

Eastern Schools Reported After Famed Grid Mentor.

By The Associated Press.

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 2.—Despite two straight setbacks to the Stanford university football team, the sentiment here is all for Coach Glenn "Pop" Warner.

The Cardinals dropped a game to the University of California at Los Angeles last Saturday 13 to 6 and were on the losing end of a 13-6 game with Southern California three weeks previous, but the general feeling is that the two games were lost by breaks against Stanford.

Alfred R. Masters, graduate manager, said there always are a few chronic kickers who criticize a team whether it wins or loses.

"We are for Warner, win, lose or draw," he said.

Warner recently renewed an agreement to remain at Stanford five years. He is a member of the faculty and has no written contract and may sever his connections with the university at any time. Last year several eastern institutions were reported bidding for his services.

Eight May Run In Latonia Race

Gusto and Gallant Sir Pace Entry Lists.

By The Associated Press.

LATONIA, Ky., Nov. 2.—Two of America's greatest three-year-olds were here today, being groomed for a race Saturday with possibly six other outstanding horses in their class in the $40,000 Latonia championship.

The foremost ones are Gusto, owned by Morton L. Schwartz and the leading money winner of the year and Norman L. Church's Gallant Sir. They will uphold the east and west, for Schwartz is a New Yorker and Church is a Californian.

The championship, for $25,000 added over a mile and three-quarters course, will be run for the next to the last time Saturday.

As leading money winner, Gusto has $144,000 to his credit, and was victor in the American Derby.

Gallant Sir triumphed in the Maryland handicap.

Those considered likely to run against them are C. V. Whitney's Mad Frump; W. R. Coe's Osculator; J. Fred Adams' Rehobeth; H. P. Headley's Big Beau; Cee Tee of the Dixiana stables, and R. M. Eastman's Cathop.

Chicago Hopeful Of Upset

Stagg Drills Charges Hard for Purdue Tilt Saturday.

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Even though he may not have another opportunity to "fear Purdue," Amos Alonzo Stagg is too busy trying to get his University of Chicago eleven back in stride to observe the ancient custom.

Back in the days when Chicago had powerful entrants in Western Conference football championship battles, and Purdue was able to furnish little more than light work outs for any good team, the head line writers annually told the world "Stagg Fears Purdue." This was considered very quaint because Chicago almost without fail, drubbed Purdue.

If Stagg has been given to actually fearing any team during the past few years, however he could hardly have picked a better team than Purdue for the purpose. This year is no exception, but the old man is hoping for an upset victory over the powerful Boilermakers.

With all of its crimples rounding into condition, Michigan will be at top strength for Indiana, but Coach Harry Kipke is working the Wolverines hard on defense measures.

The Hoosiers also are spending a lot of time on defense.

Northwestern still plans to say it with forward passes against Ohio State, while between sessions on drills against passes, the Buckeyes are smoothing up their running game.

Illinois also will bet on passes against Wisconsin, and the Badger backfield has been shifted by Coach Clarence Spears, who is looking for capable pass defense men. Iowa yesterday showed improvement in a scrimmage against the freshmen, but Coach Ossie

East Palestine After Revenge For 1931 Setback on Saturday

tory is so remote that should it happen, it would be one of the season's most drastic upsets. This year's fracas is booked for Columbiana's gridiron.

Lisbon's classy little club faces almost certain defeat when it plays host to the powerful Wellsville machine in a Columbiana county engagement Saturday at the Fairgrounds. Lisbon may score on the Bengals, but that is about the best they can hope for against Frank Abbey's aggregation.

Rudibaugh, the freshman phenom, will be Lisbon's big threat, although Vanaman and Reese may give the Bengals a little trouble.

Leetonia, the other Columbiana entry in the circuit, has an open date, but is attempting to fill it.

Other Tri-County league games see Canal Fulton at Minerva on Friday, Louisville at Navarre, Sebring and Alliance and Boardman at Hubbard, on Saturday.

Minerva's undefeated and unscored-on eleven faces a stiff fight with Canal Fulton. Sebring will offer Alliance only a good scrimmage, while Louisville and Boardman are in for tough argument with Navarre and Hubbard, respectively.

GAMES, THIS WEEK

Friday: Canal Fulton at Minerva.

Saturday: East Palestine at Columbiana, Wellsville at Lisbon, Sebring at Alliance, Louisville at Navarre, Boardman at Hubbard.

East Palestine High gridders, at present tied for fourth place in the Tri-County league football standings, are expected to use their battle with Columbiana Saturday to advance into a deadlock with Boardman for third position. Although East Palestine is experiencing a rather drab season, the Brown and White is expecting no trouble with the weak Columbiana outfit, which has failed to win a game this season.

Last year Columbiana surprised Palestine with a 7-6 victory, but any chance of repeating the vic-

A Message to The WORKINGMAN...

What President Hoover Did:

Battling with the greatest peace-time economic problems that have confronted the United States in its 150 years of history, President Hoover has set in motion the machinery to restore normal prosperity and provide employment for the workers of the nation. Among other things:

* * *

President Hoover secured the cooperation of labor and industrial leaders in maintaining wage levels.

* * *

President Hoover obtained the cooperation of the railroads, utilities, and industries in expanding construction activities.

* * *

President Hoover urged shorter work-week and the staggering of employment in shifts.

* * *

President Hoover speeded up and expanded the Federal building program.

* * *

President Hoover enlisted the cooperation of all the Governors in enlarging their various state construction plans.

* * *

President Hoover set up the employment committee for finding jobs and financing relief; he reorganized and enlarged Federal employment service to bring the jobs and the jobless together.

* * *

President Hoover restricted immigration, thereby preserving American jobs for Americans.

Mr. Workingman:

You are an American breadwinner!

You have a job, or you may be out of work.

But you are interested in keeping your job if you have one, or of getting a job if you haven't.

What you want is a job—not a dole!

The only way you can be gainfully employed is to live in a country whose natural resources and purchasing power are protected for the security of yourself and your family. You have a right to be guaranteed, so far as is humanly possible, that you may have work and at wages that will enable you to buy food and clothing, and provide a home for your family.

THE BEST GUARANTEE FOR A JOB AND PROTECTION FOR YOUR FAMILY IS PROVIDED IN THE PROTECTIVE TARIFF POLICY LAID DOWN YEARS AGO, AND FAITHFULLY MAINTAINED BY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY!

This protective tariff policy will keep American markets for American labor! It will keep out of our country the cheap goods and agricultural products of other nations whose standards of living are lower than our own!

The Democratic Party wants to lower this tariff wall that now safeguards the United States. The Democrats promise, if elected, to open our ports to the cheap foreign-made goods of the world. They argue that such a policy would increase our foreign business. They would break down the protective tariff wall to get an outlet for only 10 per cent of our goods and at the same time open our own domestic commerce and trade to foreign competition for the remaining 90 per cent of our goods which we, ourselves, now buy and consume.

It is to the interest of American labor, both on farm and in factory, to retain the Republican protective tariff to safeguard its own welfare—to assure all who have jobs that they will CONTINUE to have them, and to open up NEW JOBS to those who haven't jobs today. Unemployment problems in other countries are much worse than ours, so that every dollar's worth of cheap goods that a lowered Democratic tariff policy would allow to enter our country would mean that amount of lessened demand for American labor.

Don't be fooled by Democratic promises of prosperity under their plan of a lowered tariff. It is only a form of political bait to catch votes during a temporarily dislocated economic condition that can be and is being adjusted WITHIN OUR OWN NATION! The Democratic lowered tariff plan would place the American worker on a scale of living equal to the coolie labor of China and Japan, or the lower wages of the rest of the world.

Let's be sure that American labor, in the city and village and on the farm, is protected for the workers of America behind the protective tariff policies of the Republican Party, under the tried and proven leadership of Herbert Hoover!

KEEP HOOVER on the Job and KEEP YOUR JOB!

STOCK PRICES SHADE HIGHER

Market Steady After Opening Show of Irregularity.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—After an opening show of irregularity the stock market became steady in the quiet early trading today, prices in most cases ranging a shade higher.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors and American Telephone were fractionally higher. American Can, Lackawanna and North American were up about a point. Santa Fe dipped nearly a point and Union Pacific was a shade lower. Case and Standard of New Jersey were steady.

GRAIN

Chicago.

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—With Canada and Argentina both offering wheat cheaper abroad, grain prices here averaged lower early today. Chicago prices of wheat, however, were given some support though purchases made against equal simultaneous sales at Winnipeg. Opening at a decline to 1 advance, wheat afterward sagged all around. Corn started unchanged to 1/2 off and subsequently receded further.

CAUGHT OFF GUARD

Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, told a rally at Dayton, that after Nov. 8, the Republican party "would not even be able to get up in 14 years, let alone 14 seconds." Recalling the so-called "long-count" in his fight with Jack Dempsey at Chicago, won a round of laughter from the audience.

Governor George White was praised by Tunney for having given Ohio "an economical administration," while the national administrations for 12 years, "have been talking much about economy while piling up expenditures."

Taxpayers in other states, Tunney said, pointed to Ohio as an outstanding example of a state in which economy has been practiced.

Bulky at Portsmouth

It is not the intention of the Democratic party to remove all tariffs, United States Senator Robert J. Bulky said in an address at Portsmouth. Instead, he explained, the Democratic party merely seeks to "provide for reductions in tariffs where monopolies in certain commodities have been built up."

Bulky asserted the Republicans, "driven to desperation," had persuaded "employers to try to scare employees into voting the Republican ticket."

Senator Cameron Morrison of North Carolina and Governor White spoke at Alliance, the former accusing President Hoover of lacking leadership, while the governor discussed the finances of his state.

President Hoover, the senator said, refused to initiate or attempt to lead congress in doing anything "to relieve the widespread suffering," until prodded into action by the Democratic party. Gov. Roosevelt, he said, is "the greatest Democratic statesman since Woodrow Wilson."

Accusing his Republican opponent, David S. Ingalls, of criticizing the state cigarette tax enacted under White's administration, Governor White said the bill was introduced by Ingalls' dear cousin, Senator Taft.

sylvania registration, all of the big cities showed increases. Some of them follow with comparisons for 1928:

| City           | 1932 Reg. | 1928 Reg. |

| New York       | 2,334,131 | 2,028,618 |

| Denver         | 165,043   | 147,670   |
| Portland, Ore. | 145,008   | 136,767   |

The figures for Kansas City, 1932, exclude absentees, while the 1928 figures include absentees. The Denver 1932 total is incomplete.

New York City's gain was attributed by election officials to the normal rise in the city's population and the fact that this year for the first time in the history of Greater New York, a majority election is combined with the presidential and gubernatorial ballotings.

Pennsylvania Shows Decline

Separation of eligible voters by parties is not customary in most states. However, in Pennsylvania, the Democratic registration decline, while the Republican figure jumped to a new high. Conversely, President Hoover's home state of California showed only a 29,000 gain for the Republicans as against a Democratic increase of 570,000. Women accounted for the entire decline of 59,000 in Pennsylvania's registration.

West Virginia Republican registration rose from 445,579 four years ago to 473,045; Democratic, from 360,532 to 459,876; California Republican from 1,525,751 to 1,565,264; Democratic, from 592,161 to 1,161,482; Oregon Republican from 395,

RAILROAD WILL GET 'WORK LOAN'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The interstate commerce commission today authorized a "work loan" of $2,500,000 by the Reconstruction Finance corporation to the New York Central Railroad company.

The money will be used to repair 10,000 steel box cars at an average estimated cost of $150 each and 3,000 automobile box cars at an average of $200 each.

The loan is estimated to provide work for 1,500 men for seven or eight months.

CO-ED PAYS FINE

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2.—Virginia Vallance, haled into an Ohio State university court for over-parking on the campus, told the judge she had a sprained ankle and the parking lot was too far away. However, she reckoned without Martin L. Hanna, of Bowling Green, sophomore prosecutor for the Student association. He provided she had attended a dance the night before the trial, and she paid a $2 fine.

OHIO G. O. P. HEARS CAPPER, OTHER LEADERS

Bettman Calls For Tariff Aid For Potteries.

By The Associated Press.
Republican campaigning in Ohio gained in intensity last night with addresses by Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, United States Senator Arthur Capper, Harvey S. Firestone, Akron manufacturer, former Congressman James H. MacLafferty, David S. Ingalls, candidate for governor, and Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, candidate for the senate.

The newest of the campaigners of Ohio was Senator Capper, of Kansas, who spoke at Mount Vernon. Capper said "the months to come have almost a life and death importance for us all," and called upon farmers of the middle west to support the candidacy of President Hoover.

"This is not the time," said Capper, "to turn over the entire administrative government to new and inexperienced hands. The crisis has been passed, but we are still in a precarious position. One false step may bring on a relapse. Firestone, speaking on a national radio hook-up, said President Hoover has "met and overcome conditions more serious than any president since Abraham Lincoln."

The manufacturer described President Hoover's handling of the crude rubber situation between 1922 and 1928 as a typical accomplishment.

"We do not need a change in administration," he added. "We need a change in attitude. In place of despair, we need courage. In place of fear, we need confidence."

Secretary Hurley, who addressed an Akron rally, said the 1930 tariff had been misrepresented by the Democratic party. "Without the Republican tariff," he asserted, "industry and labor would have been brought down where complete financial collapse has taken place."

The five-day week and shorter work days were furthered by the President, Hurley said.

Ingalls, speaking at Painesville, delivered a counter attack to Governor George White's charges that he is lacking in business judgment. Challenging the governor's business judgment, Ingalls asked "where was Governor White when his highway director tried to spend $45,000 to buy the plant of the steel wool products corporation at Perysburg for use as a division garage and was only stopped by the board of control which investigated and found the plan unwise."

"Where was Governor White," Ingalls continued, "when the contract was let for paving 9,737 miles of highway on Route No. 146 in Guernsey and Muskingum counties which not only cost taxpayers $198,723 more than necessary but lost them $62,916.34 of federal aid because of change in type of paving material?"

Bettman Exhibits Jap Tea Pot
Bettman spoke in Cleveland and also at the Akron rally with secretary Hurley. The attorney general charged that his Democratic opponent, Senator Robert J. Bulkley, "talks for wet votes, but when it comes to action has not lifted one finger to unwind the mistake of prohibition."

On the tariff issue, Bettman said, "if the Democratic plan to reduce the tariff is carried out, our unemployment situation will be hopeless."

Exhibiting a tea pot made in Japan, the attorney general said it was produced by labor paid 34 cents an hour and sold for 86 cents a dozen, while a similar tea pot made in East Liverpool, O., was produced by workmen paid 68 cents an hour, and sold for $4 a dozen.

In a rally at Sandusky, former Congressman MacLafferty said the Democratic prohibition plank was a "trap" for those who want repeal of the 18th amendment. He added that "every vote taken in the house of representatives has shown more wet Republicans than wet Democrats."

Marion Pays Homage to Harding On 67th Birthday Anniversary

Boy Scouts Sponsor Ceremonies at Tomb Of Late President— Wreath is Placed.

By The Associated Press.
MARION, O., Nov. 2.—Today was the 67th anniversary of the birth of Warren G. Harding.

As in past years, the memory of the late president will be honored at his tomb on the edge of this city which was his home. The general public was invited to take part in ceremonies beginning at 4:45 p. m. with a bugle call assembling Boy Scouts on the Harding memorial plaza.

The program was arranged by the Boy Scout organization of the Harding area, comprising Marion, Wyandot, Crawford, Morrow and Union counties. This group is sponsoring plans for an annual pilgrimage of residents of this vicinity to the tomb.

Interest in Scouts Recalled.
The late president's oft-expressed interest in the scouts was recalled today by Arthur S. Brooks, area scout executive, who quoted from one of Harding's addresses as follows:

"I am with the scout movement heart and soul. It is an organization teaching the spirit of service and honor which we must always have in our citizenship. I wish every boy in America could have the advantage and honor of being in the scout organization."

For several years the ceremonies at the tomb have included the placing of a wreath by two eagle scouts from Cincinnati. This was requested in the will of a Cincinnati who bequeathed a special fund for that purpose.

Dr. Sawyer Speaks.
Robert Henke and Andrew Elmspinner were the eagles assigned to the pilgrimage this year. The memorial program included:

Invocation by the Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Marion; the reading of extracts from several of Harding's speeches by Scout Frank Roberts, a nephew of George B. Christian, Jr., who was secretary to the former president, and a short talk on Harding's life by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, son of the late Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, personal physician to Harding.

GLASS, MILLS IN VERBAL ROW

Senator, Secretary Clash Over Copy Of Speech.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The propriety of securing advance copies of political speeches for off-the-record answers was at issue today between Senator Glass of Virginia and Secretary Ogden Mills.

Glass delivered over a nationwide radio system last night a speech urging the election of Governor Roosevelt. Fifteen minutes after he concluded, the secretary of the treasury delivered a self-described "answer" over the same system.

The Virginian concluded by saying he was advised Mills had obtained an advance copy of his address "which involves a breach of confidence disdained by every honorable newspaper man."

Mills replied:

"He knows perfectly well that every advance copy of a speech I distribute finds its way at once to the Democratic national committee and that practically every advance copy of Democratic speeches come into our hands. There was no breach of release."

WHAT IS IT . . and how does it improve cigarette taste?

YOU'VE heard how fruit of one variety has been crossed with fruit of another to produce a new and more pleasing flavor. The loganberry, for example, is a cross between the raspberry and the blackberry.

Chesterfield's Cross-Blend gets the same result—better taste—by a different method.

It welds together the different kinds of several varieties of tobacco. Many types of Bright tobacco, a great many types of Burley tobacco, and numerous grades of Turkish tobacco are all merged into one—Chesterfield tobacco.

This welding or Cross-Blending goes beyond ordinary blending or mixing tobaccos together. It actually makes every kind of tobacco in Chesterfield partake of the qualities of every other type.

It's the Cross-Blending of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos that gives Chesterfields a distinctive, better taste.

They are milder. They have a flavor and aroma which, we believe, you will like.
